THE ALUMINATOR

Elemental power from Ford Racing

The Aluminator line of performance modular 4.6L short and long blocks have been tested to 700hp through two seasons of Formula D drift competition with driver Ken Gushi.

Built with the strongest aluminum 4.6L blocks ever produced these all new engines feature the best modular engine parts available at a price similar to the competition's remanufactured performance engines.

Aluminator from Ford Racing, it's elemental!
